London, November 1.

A further Continuation of the Report of the Committee of the House of Commons of Ireland, concerning Putland and Nuttall, Officers of the Treasury of that Kingdom.

ONE other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 11th of October, 1701, for One hundred and fifty pounds; which they repaid him the 12th of March following: the Interest whereof was only Five pounds eleven shillings and two pence; and they paid him for Advance Fifteen pounds, which is Nine pounds eight shillings and ten pence above the legal Interest. That they paid these Sums out of their own Warrants; which they Negotiated with Mr. Putland, and allowed him Advance for the same. That Mr. Putland's Money, Mr. Nuttall's Money, and the Money of the Crown, are all in the same Box; and that the Money of the Crown is paid out of the same Box which Mr. Nuttall paid the Examinant Money out of. Apprehended the Money Mr. Putland Advanc'd was the publick Money: And said, he was sure, the Money which from time to time, was Advanc'd to him, and Partners, was at the same time Charg'd to the Publick.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 29th of September, 1701, for Fifty pounds; which they re-paid him the 22d of December following: The Interest whereof only came to One pound two shillings and two pence; and they paid him for Advance Five pounds, which is Three pounds seventeen shillings and ten pence above the Legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 21st of May, 1702, for Forty pounds; which they re-paid him the 8th of July following: The Interest whereof only came to Nine shillings and eight pence; and they paid him for Advance Three pounds, which is two pounds ten shillings and four pence above the Legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 31st of October, 1701, for One hundred and fifty pounds; which they repaid him the 10th of April following: the Interest whereof only came to three pounds eighteen shillings; and they paid him for Advance Fifteen pounds, which is eleven pounds two shillings above the legal Interest. That when he told Mr. Putland of the Petition he intended to be presented to this HOUSE, Mr. Putland desir'd him to speak nothing but Truth. James Dugan being further Examined, prov'd, and produc'd to your Committee the several Notes following, Viz.

A Note from him and Partners to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 19th of August, 1701, for Two hundred Pounds; which they re-paid him the 19th of October following: the Interest whereof only came to Three pounds three shillings and four pence; and they paid him for Advance Ten pounds, which is Six pounds sixteen shillings and eight pence above the Legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 19th of February, 1699, for Five hundred pounds; which they re-paid him the 19th of April following; the Interest whereof amounted only to Ten pounds sixteen shillings and four pence; and they paid him for Advance Twenty five pounds, which is fourteen pounds three shillings and eight pence above the Legal Interest. Said, that their pressing Occasions made them apply to Mr. Nuttall, and give him such large Advance-Money.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 13th of May, 1700, for One hundred pounds; which they re-paid him the 2d of July following: the Interest whereof amounted only to One pound five shillings and ten pence; and they paid him Five pounds for Advance, which is Three pound fourteen shillings and two pence above the Legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 4th of September, 1701, for One hundred and ten pounds; which they re-paid him the 8th of February following: the Interest whereof amounted only to Four pounds five shillings and ten pence; and they paid him Ten pounds for Advance, which is Five pounds fourteen shillings and two pence above the Legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 12th of Day of August, 1701, for Five hundred pounds; which they re-paid him the 15th of January following: the Interest whereof amounted only to Nineteen pounds fourteen shillings and eight pence; and they paid him for Advance Thirty seven pounds ten shillings, which is seventeen pounds fifteen shillings and four pence above the Legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 22d of September, 1701, for Three hundred pounds; which they repaid him the 22d of December following: the Interest whereof amounted only to Seven pounds one shilling and ten pence; and they paid him for Advance Fifteen pounds, which seven pounds eighteen shillings and two pence above the Legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttall, Dated the 22d of March, 1699, for Three hundred pounds; which they re-paid him the 6th of June following: the Interest whereof amounted only to Five pounds eighteen shillings and four pence; and they paid him for Advance Fifteen pounds, which is nine pounds one shilling and eight pence above the Legal Interest.

Being cross Examined. He said, their Creditors being pressing, he desir'd Mr. Putland to Accept of Notes to be Drawn upon him to the Value in his Hands, towards the Satisfaction of the Creditors; which he promised to do, and accordingly did.

That Mr. Putland told him, he had been too hard with him and his Partners; and that he would Refund something to them, if the Money was paid him. That he gave them One Hundred Pounds a Piece. That no Allowance was made by the Collectors for Exchange. That they never had but one Acquittance, which was to Foxford. And that when Executions were coming out against them, Mr. Putland has Advanc'd them some times Two or Three Hundred Pounds: And at the Months End, when they came to Account and Ballance, they Allow'd him a Premium, that they could not have Money from him, without Allowing him Advance. That they never treated with any Banker or other Person, to Advance the Money. Owns they Owe Fifteen or Sixteen Thousand Pounds: And giving this Advance has been the reason of their running in Debr. Said, If all the Money which has been taken from them at the Treasury for Advance, were Repaid them, it would Clear all their Debts. That their their Number of Creditors are near Eighty; and some of them keep Ten, Twelve, and some Twenty Men at Work. Said, that the Advance was not demanded; but that they could not have the Money without paying Advance for it.

James Leathly being produc'd by the Petitioners; he did produce, and prove to your Committee, the several Notes following, Viz.

A Note from him and Partners to Mr. Nuttal, Dated the 22d of February, 1703, for One hundred pounds; which they re-paid to Mr. Nuttal the 10th of April following: the Interest whereof amounted only to One pound one shilling and seven pence; and that they paid him Advance Five pounds, which is Three pounds eighteen shillings and five pence above the Legal Interest. That the Examinant never gave his Consent to give Advance-Money; but believ'd he had been present when Advance was paid, and believ'd it was demanded by Mr. Nuttal.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttal, Dated the 15th of April, 1704, for Thirty pounds; which they re-paid him the 30th of the same Month: the Interest whereof amounted only to Two shillings; and they paid him for Advance Three pounds, which is two pounds eighteen shillings above the legal Interest. And said, the three pounds Advance-Money was stop'd by Mr. Nuttal out of their Monthly Payments.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttal, Dated the 18th of January, 1703, for One hundred pounds; which they re-paid him the 10th of February following: the Interest whereof amounted only to Eleven shillings and ten pence; and that they paid him for Advance Five pounds; which is four pounds eight shillings and two pence above the legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttal, Dated the 26th of November, 1703, for One thousand two hundred and nine pounds seven shillings and four pence; which they re-paid him the 20th of March following: the Interest whereof amounted only to Thirty four pounds seventeen shillings and ten pence; and they paid him for Advance Ninety pounds twelve shillings and eight pence; which is Fifty five pounds fourteen shillings and ten pence above the legal Interest.

One other Note from them to Mr. Nuttal, Dated the 14th of September, 1704, for Fifty pounds; which they re-paid him the 20th of the same Month: the Interest whereof amounted only to Thirteen pence; and they paid him for Advance Four pounds five shillings; which is four pounds three shillings and eleven pence above the legal Interest.

Plymouth, October 28. To Day came in 5 Ships from Lisbon, that were under Convoy of the Cumberland, one of which was re-taken by the Charles-Galley, which came in last Night from Cruising. To Day came in her Majesty's Ships the Antelope and Salisbury from the Westward: The latter has brought in the Corps of Sir Cloudfly Shovel, who was lost on the Scilly Rocks in the Association the 22d Instant in the Night, and not one Person liv'd that was in his Ship.

Plymouth, Octob. 28. The 25th of last Month the Burford, a Third Rate, Captain Evans Commadore, the Mary, Monk, Salisbury, Antelope and Hampshire, Fourth Rates, the Charles-Galley and Tartar Pink Fifth Rates, and the Terrible Fireship, Sail'd from this Place to Cruise to the Westward; but the Weather in a few Days oblig'd them to return, 5 of them being damag'd in Masts, &c. The Salisbury, Antelope, Hampshire, and Charles-Galley, went out again to Cruise, and the 22d of this Month they put into Scilly, at 4 in the Afternoon: That Night they heard the firing of Guns of Ships in Distress: The next Day they had an Account, that Sir Cloudfly Shovel with about 20 Sail of Men of War coming from the Streights, having made an Observation the 21st, lay by the 22d from 12 to about 6 in the Afternoon; but the Weather being very hazy and rainy and Night coming on dark, the Wind being S. S. W, they Steering E by N, supposing they had the Channel open, were some of them upon the Rocks to the Westward of Scilly before they were aware, about 8 a Clock at Night. Of the Association not a Man was sav'd: Sir Cloudfly Shovel was taken up, Stripp'd, and Bury'd in the Sand the 23d: On inquiry made by the Boats of the Salisbury and Antelope it was discover'd (either on Occasion of a Dispute between those who Stripp'd Sir Cloudfly (as some say,) or on a Person's asking the Man who bury'd him whether he had not take up a large Corps (as say others,) where he was laid: Being taken out of the Ground again, and the Earth wash'd off, he appear'd as fresh as if alive, though he had lain interr'd from the 23d to the 26th, on which Day he was brought on Board the Salisbury and embowell'd; and was to Day brought in higher. The Captain and 24 Men of the Firebrand Fireship were saved, as were also all the Crew of the Phoenix. 'Tis said the Rumney and Eagle, with their Crews, were lost with the Association.

Shields, October 28. Our great Coal-Fleet is now Sail'd, under Convoy of 3 Men of War: They are above 400 Sail; part for the Coast, part for London.

London, November 1.

Whereas all the Aldermen of London (that are Justices of the Peace) are by the Government thought necessary to do the Justice of the City, and 'tis well known that at least half of them are generally out of Town. And the Lord Mayor by his Duty being bound to reside in London, and not to lye out of it without special Leave from the Government, he ought to supply by his constant Attendance the Defects of his Brethren, and he being the chief Magistrate, most Business is brought before him; there being one of the Four Attorneys appointed to attend the Lord Mayor Weekly for that purpose; therefore it is thought by many hundred considerable Citizens that Sir John Buckworth Baronet, Citizen and Fishmonger of London, a Gentleman of unquestionable Loyalty and Ability, is the most proper Person to be Elected to serve this City in Parliament in the Room of Sir Robert Clayton deceased.

N. B. That the Advertisements publish'd by the Friends of Sir John Buckworth in favour of his Election, are all undoubtedly true notwithstanding any publick or private insinuations to the contrary.
